

Potion Index Feature list

1. The user will be able to create new potions while inputting their name, what they do, and what color they are.
2. The user will be able to store all of their potions in a table view so they can view all of their potions once they have been created.
3. The user can edit information for any potion once they have been created
4. The user can delete potions
5. The user can select how they want their potions ordered (ex: alphabetically, what they do, etc.)